Summer thunder can be expected to roll around the Commons Block on August 1 and 2, when the AMS holds its symposium on "The Learning Society." Panels are poised to go to extremes on life-long influences that shape individual development. Sessions begin at 2:30 p.m. Friday, and will continue as long as discussion do. Cost is 50 cents per session, or $3.00 for all three sessions, supper on Friday, and the closing lunch on Saturday. The SUB has further details.
